

Am I wrong, for reaching for the things that I can't see?

Comment from a young man - Am I wrong, for reaching for the things that I can't see?

This reminded me of a quote from Albert Einstein - On Mystery

"The most beautiful experience we can have is the mysterious. It is the fundamental emotion that stands at the cradle of true art and true science. Whoever does not know it and can no longer wonder, no longer marvel, is as good as dead, and his eyes are dimmed."["The World As I See It," 1930]

So, the next time you reach out and can't see it – It's called taking a risk overcome your fears to achieve your goal. NEVER SAY YOUR WRONG.
